

LOUIS XI OF FRANCE (THE SPIDER KING), 1423-1483

The part of Louis' story that interests us is the end, both physically and psychologically. Louis' life expired not from close fighting in Italy, nor palace intrigue, but ignominiously, from infected hemorrhoids. If ever a man needed to "get off his ass", it was Louis. Those final days in the saddle and the cold stone toilets at the chateau would have been enough to bring any man to his knees. Louis needed to remain prone to ease the pain.

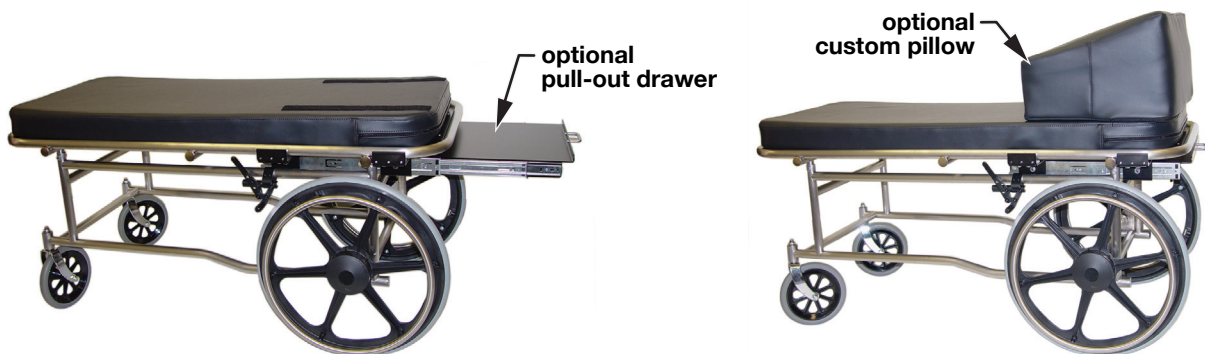

So if your client needs to get off his ass, think Falcon and think Prone Cart.

If your client has an ongoing stage 4 ulcer at the coccyx; or has had flap surgery and is on complete, prone bedrest, but doesn't wish to be confined to the hospital bed or bedroom; the solution may be a Falcon Prone Cart.

Falcon now offers both manual and power prone carts that allow users the independence to leave the confines of the hospital room. Please see the following chart for options, and call our Customer Service department with any questions:
